

Transforming lives, raising productivity

New medicines have the power to transform patients' lives...

Supporting the NHS to recover from the pandemic

The NHS has been working to boost access to new medicines.

But British patients still see less access to the newest breakthroughs than patients in other countries...

Amongst only 4 types of medicines...

could be missing out on treatments available on the NHS right now, which could transform their lives and support the NHS to recover from the pandemic.

Use of medicines on the NHS five years after launch is typically 64% of other nations.

Patients in Denmark & Germany

Patients in the United Kingdom

Creating a health service that helps level up the UK

Amongst only 4 types of medicines, there are...

429,000 more years of perfect health to be gained for NHS patients if we make the most of brand new medicines available today and £17.9 billion in productivity gains for the United Kingdom.
